

Vision for the Future

A world without war, where every child is fed, educated, and free; where differences are resolved by law and dialogue rather than violence; and where humanity acts as a single moral community, united in its diversity and committed to the preservation of life on Earth.
