

Mission Statement of the PFJF Movement

The mission of the Peace, Freedom, Justice, and Fairness (PFJF) Movement is to promote a more peaceful, democratic, free, just, and fair world through nonviolent action, human rights, democratic reform, and international cooperation.

The movement seeks to:

- Protect the dignity and value of every human life.
- Promote peace and prevent war.
- Defend freedom of belief, speech, and expression.
- Support democratic self-government.
- Reduce corruption and abuse of power.
- Protect minority rights and equal treatment under the law.
- Encourage scientific truth, education, and open knowledge.
- Promote sustainable stewardship of the Earth.
- Build institutions capable of addressing planetary challenges peacefully and democratically.

The PFJF Movement welcomes people of all nations, religions, cultures, and philosophies who support peaceful cooperation and universal human dignity.

The movement rejects violence, hatred, authoritarianism, and political extremism.

Its long-term vision is a world where peace, freedom, justice, and fairness are protected for every human being.
